DETAILED ACTIONAbstract

The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because legal phraseology such as "means" (see line 3) should not be present therein. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities:
Reference character 25 (Figure 4) is not present in the specification. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 11, 12 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claims contain subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. In regard to claim 11, the specification has not enabled a device which includes both a tapered inner diameter and two liquids separated by a viscous substance. In regard to claim 17, the specification has not enabled a device which includes both a smaller diameter in the housing between the liquids and a second viscous substance.

Art Unit: 3751

Claim 17 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claim 17 is indefinite in that a second viscous substance has been defined without there being defined a first viscous substance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 13 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Siegel. Siegel discloses a "shock resistant" applicator for a non-evaporative liquid comprised of an elongated tubular housing 15 sealed on one end (via element 20), a first liquid (in reservoir 12) near the sealed end, a second liquid (in reservoir 11) wherein the tubular housing has a smaller diameter 13 near the interface between the first and second liquids, an opening means 18, 19, 21 near the sealed end to release the enclosed liquids through the other open end of the housing and a shock resistant plug (the nib is section 23) near the open end of the housing which defines a small hole from the liquid to the open end of the housing wherein the liquids may be released by allowing air to enter the housing through the opening means.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 15 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Siegel in view of Bixby. Although the Siegel reference does not disclose the shape of the path in the plug, attention is directed to the Bixby reference, which discloses another pen having a nib c at the front section thereof wherein the path therein is non-linear in order to provide an effective flow of ink therethrough. Accordingly, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to employ such a nib onto the Siegel reference in order to enable that pen to effectively permit the flow of ink therethrough.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-10 are allowed.

Claims 14 and 16 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

Art Unit: 3751

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The Kingman reference is cited for disclosing another tubular housing wherein two liquids are separated by a smaller diameter area.
